

ALBERTA NATIVE PLANT COUNCIL

Native Plant Study Group

Peace River

The Alberta Native Plant Council (ANPC) is a provincial wide, volunteer based organization promoting awareness and education about native plants in Alberta. Our Peace River Plant Study Group brings together people who enjoy the outdoors and learning about local plant species.

Anyone interested is welcome to join our monthly meetups! Winter meetings are held indoors, summer meetups are spent outdoors exploring the beautiful Peace River area. No experience is necessary - artists, naturalists, novice and expert botanists are all welcome!

Participants will learn about and practice identifying local species, and explore additional topics related to what's happening in the world of native plants in Alberta. Winter sessions will consist of a brief presentation about a specific plant topic followed by an exercise, activity, or group discussion about it. Vascular plants, mosses, and lichens will be covered from a variety of perspectives.
